

Alan Charles Scott

April 19, 1937 - July 27, 2025

Alan Charles Scott, known as Al to his friends and loved ones, passed away peacefully on July 27, 2025, in Edmonton, AB. Born on April 19, 1937, in Vancouver, BC, Al's life was defined by his commitment to his family, a passion for knowledge, and a successful career that left a lasting impact on the business world.

Al's early years in Vancouver laid the foundation for a lifetime of achievement and learning. After completing his Commerce degree at the University of British Columbia, he furthered his education by earning an MBA from Simon Fraser University. This academic background was the cornerstone of what would become a distinguished career in business and manufacturing consulting. Al's sharp intellect, coupled with his kind and thoughtful nature, made him a respected figure in professional circles.

Al had an insatiable curiosity for technology and was always embracing the latest advancements. Al loved spending time with his three grandchildren, Rowan, Sarah, and Ceila, serving as a mentor and role model to them.

Al's personal life was marked by a loving partnership with his wife, Angella, whose companionship provided him with unwavering support. Together, they raised their daughter Katryna and son Stefan, who, along with their spouses Steve and Jenn, expanded the family circle. The family home was always filled with good food and lively conversations.

Those who knew Al will remember him as a man of great intelligence, kindness, and thoughtfulness. His ability to listen, offer sage advice, and maintain a sense of humour in all situations endeared him to many. Al's legacy is not only in the successful business strategies he implemented but also in the values he instilled in his children and the love he shared with his grandchildren.

As we bid farewell to Alan Charles Scott, we reflect on a life well-lived and well-loved. His memory will be cherished and kept alive by all who were touched by his generous spirit.
