“ One of my most favorite memories of Mackenzie was when he was little. Myka got her first brand new car, and it had power windows. When she and Mac came to visit me at work, he was just so excited "Auntie Mandi! I can change the wind!". I'll never forget that, and I'll never forget you 💖 Rest easy, sweet boy xo

“ I loved coming over and visiting with Mac. He was extremely creative and had a great heart. One of the last times I saw him he was making his own board game. It was pretty complex and interesting, would have been really fun to play! Glad you're back home and at peace surrounded by love.
